VOLUME 24, No. 40

NARBERTH, PENNSYLVANIA, JULY 8, 1938

PRICE, FIVE CENTS

Fourth of July Saw Biggest Crowd, Best Show, Best Proceeds

Everybody said it was a good show, possibly the best ever, and the amount of the field collection the largest of all the years, a few pennies short of $400, would seem to indicate the throng was also the tops, proving that Narberth's grand annual affair affords widespread pleasure and that it ought to be continued.

Always it should be mentioned that our community planned exceedingly well in providing the Playground for public purposes, as what better compensation to a gregarious spirit (which is the brotherhood we all should have) than to behold, as the lights from the flares flooded the field, these thousands of excellent calibre Americans, sturdy, self-sustaining people, drafting all that is good from a patriotic festival in celebration of Independence Day, all glad to share in its costs and in fact providing a substantial surplus for use in other community ventures.

The figures are not immediately available, but there will be enough to square the debt lurking on the World War Memorial, most of which was paid for by the American Legion, and now it can all be settled by a donation of $200, which your committee will make next week if there is no dissent, and how could there be?

To those who helped in any way, many, many, thanks, and who was it amongst us who did not help in some way, if not with cash or services, then with excellent good will, and thus we again strike the note of neighborhood solidarity, with the will and the way to bring to pass all the commendable things which should happen in a community committed to a procedure far beyond that of mere and sheer existence.

Our final figures should be in shape for review next week, with the further facts of the case which may develop between now and then.

THE SPECTATOR.

The Playground

On the Fourth

The voices of Chairman J. J. Cabrey, of the Citizens' Committee, and Burgess Frank A. Schrepfer could be heard for blocks around. Walt Case had his amplifiers rigged at only a fifth of possible volume to spare car-drums.

—Of which there were easily 15,000 pairs. The eyes had it as darkness set in and the long display of rockets, candles, wheels, set pieces, etc., got under way.

"How do they do it?" said Marjorie, aged 7, and Tommy, 6, answered, "God did a trick."

It was quite a trick to get the arrangements handled so smoothly. The committee's chairman had his publicity going early and well. The crowd was there, from as far away as North Carolina and Guatemala. Narberth's population is not quite 5,000. There were thousands of cars, parked all around the town. Lower Merion police co-operated nicely with Narberth's. And the borough firemen and American Legion did well.

There were no casualties in Narberth on the Fourth, though hundreds of children and parents elsewhere will have painful reminders of "the bombs bursting in air." The borough's community celebration was a safe and sane triumph.

Girl Scouts

A combined program for arts and crafts, dramatics and nature was planned with the assistance of Miss Virginia R. Hughes, director of the Philadelphia Council, for the Main Line camp, which will be open the first four days of the week of July 11 and 18, at Dove Mill, the Longstreth estate in Haverford, for the third consecutive year.

Directors of camp activities will be: Arts and crafts, Mrs. Homer Eachus, of Merion; nature, Mrs. Henry Bull, of Ardmore; dramatics, Mrs. John Flynn, of Narberth; folk dancing, Mrs. Henry D. Booth, Jr., of St. David's; sketching, Mrs. S. Gordon Smyth, of Merwood Park, and singing, Mrs. George V. Woodrow, of Narberth.

The New Copper

For Narberth Will Probably be Picked Monday Night

At Borough Council meeting, following tonight's committee meeting. Of an original nine candidates for Brady Utz' post, selection narrows down to three—John Edward Clark, William J. Beirne, Jr., and George A. Torchiana. With standards improving for Lower Merion's force, the examining officials have been careful to pick the best, and so Lower Merion's examining physician had his in-ning, and Wednesday night the township commissioners did one of their celebrated intelligence-testing acts, for the benefit of Burgess Frank Schrepfer and Public Safety Chairman Roland S. Fleer.

All of which left three local youths still in the running. The winner will undergo a rigorous physical regime at the new State Police Training School, Myerstown near Reading, beginning July 15.

Narberth Nears

Top in Main Line League Race

If Narberth's tossers continue to improve as they have done in recent games it won't be so long before they will be in their usual place at the top of the Main Line League.

Jack Jefferies, who is carrying on as manager for the ill Gene Davis, has the boys playing as if they mean it of late. Narberth now finds itself close on the heels of Manoa and Gladwyne, who still are tie for the lead after a busy "Fourth" schedule.

The borough nine won both games on the holiday and by so doing, moved into undisputed possession of third place, replacing Berwyn. West Phils were trimmed, 4-0 in the morning game and Berwyn was jolted by a 13-5 count after lunch.

Narberth also won two independent games Saturday and Sunday. Royersford was trounced, 16-7 as Will Bassett hurled for the local team. Crescentville bowed, 9-2 when Bill Reynolds toed the mound.

The league again has open dates this week-end, but Narberth will play independent games on the home grounds. Tomorrow the Jefferiesmen meet Philadelphia Jewish Stars and Sunday Wissinoming comes here.

Al Herrmann did the hurling against West Phils and Walter Masters returned to work against Berwyn. Herrmann hurled well and poled a double and two singles in four attempts. He gave up five hits, struck out four and walked two. Masters struck out four Berwyn men and walked one.

But the real hero for the week-end and holiday was Roger Malseed, whose play attracted Phil Haggerty, Athletics' scout, to the borough field last week.

Malseed, who cavorts in right field, boasted three home runs in four games. For the two he blasted on the "Fourth" he was given a shirt apiece offered by the Narberth Men's Shop.

The Band

Of the Tressler Orphans' Home,

a former member of town council. He wrote:

"Each succeeding year," etc.

Loysville, Pa., now on its 24th annual tour, will give a concert in Narberth next Monday evening at 7 o'clock on the ball grounds.

For years the band has been touring the east during the summer months. It is one of the oldest organizations of its type in the country, dating back to the 1880's.

Today the band is composed of 39 members ranging in age from 10 to 18, the average age being about 14 years. During the three summer months they travel in their own bus about 4,000 miles.

The program for the concert is one of wide variety offering both entertainment and inspiration. There will be vocal and instrumental solos, quartets, and several novelty features. The director is Paul J. Fisher, a graduate of West Chester Normal School.

The congregation of the Lutheran Church, entertaining the members of the band in their homes, take pleasure in presenting the band and cordially invite all neighbors and friends to the concert. In case of rain the concert will be given in the parish hall of the church.

There will be a free-will offering, to help feed and clothe the 350 boys and girls of the home ranging in age from a few weeks to 18 years.

New President

Of Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club

Took office at Tuesday's meeting, and appointed his committees. He is Dr. R. M. Staley, who as vice-president has been responsible for the programs of the past year. He is a veterinarian, lives on Avon road, Narberth, and is active in All Saints' Church, Wynnewood.

New President

He succeeds William H. Durbin, who was presented the presidential badge in token of his able regime.

Engle Taylor, of Bala avenue, Cynwyd, Philadelphia Electric official, is the new vice-president. Dr. F. M. Purse and Hervey Keim, both of Narberth, continue as secretary and treasurer, respectively. The board of directors consists of the above-named Camp Delmont, official Valley Forge Council summer camp, opened Saturday, destined to be one of the largest in the council's history. These first two weeks are devoted to the colored troops.

Announcement is made of a new service in summer nature hikes. They are under supervision of Richard Fox, Community Athletic Division of the Bureau of Recreation and Education, Philadelphia, and include three different spots—Mermaid Lane, Horticultural Hall at 44th and Parkside Ave., and Lemon Hill, the Fairmount Park entrance near the Art Museum—all along the Upper Wissahickon

Thirteen Charter

Members of the 1933 Season are Among the 66

Main Liners attending Ranger Lodge at Casco, Maine, according to S. Palmer Read, Jr., camp news hawk. The directors are G. V. Perry and L. B. Fowler, junior high instructor, who as Tommy Macklin, writes "Time Out" for this paper during Lower Merion's sports season.

The party in two special buses left Narberth last week, by way of New York and Boston. First impressions on arrival, when the 14 cabins began to reverberate with life:

First baseball bat: Charlie Dykes', 14 1/2 minutes after arrival at camp.

First campfire: Greetings from the directors and counselors. Charter campers include Read, and Dick Narigan, Jim Fitzpatrick, Steve Schoff, Bill Miller, Mrs. James (Chef) Cairns, Bobby Cairns, Bobby Fowler, Phil and Morris Carr and Dana and Ames Cahoon. The show is stolen by Tenant Bugby's swingtime tunes on the piano, coupled with Ted Friel's smooth saxophonizing.

First reveille: Tooted by Roland James at 8, one hour later than normal—but Marshall Brooks and Co. in Cabin 7 showed their novice-dom by arising at 5.45. "They'll soon get over their milk-man schedule and learn to let the bugle coax them."

The camp store: Red and gray standard uniforms were acquired by the young Rangerites. "Sunday is a fitting day to wear new clothes, and it proves to be a 'fitting' day for storekeeper Cyril Gibson. 'Gippy' is also sailboat instructor and he's looking forward to spending his time jumping from sail to sale."

Gene Davis is Recovering

—Though slowly—from his serious siege of typhoid, according to last reports from Hahnemann Hospital.

Aye, Citizen, acclaim your merchant-man for the good which he hath done in helping our community pay formal tribute to the large significance of INDEPENDENCE DAY

... And the traders, now numerous and well-provisioned, also profited as the land prospered, not presuming to over-reach nor to be excessive, which made for great comfort among the citizenry, and when came the high-days and holidays these vendors provided the ale and cakes aplenty, exacting no tax for the same, so well did they husband the rich sources of their gains, the latter never ceasing to grow apace because of which.

Burgess Frank A. Schreier was the first person to pay his 1938 taxes, last week when the new tax bills went out. And thereby set his predecessor as Burgess, the new tax collector, John R. Hall, off to a good start. Third taxpayer was William H. Durbin, former borough councilman. Second honors went to a teacher new this past year at the Narberth School, Richard L. Lehman, who was first to pay the per capita and occupational tax. Explanation for the thoughtful promptness of this new resident is that his father, back home up state, is a tax collector.

Those who remember and love him for his screen contributions, as well as the newer generations who have never had the opportunity to see the great idol of filmdom, will be happy to learn that his last and greatest picture, "Son of the Sheik," will open at the Suburban Theatre, on Tuesday for a three-day run.

Co-starred with Valentino is another screen favorite, Vilma Banky. The extra added attraction on the program is "Men of Medicine: 1938."

An authentic behind the scenes study of the U. S. doctor and the problem of making his skill and knowledge available to all those in need. River. These hikes are to be supervised by experts and are free of charge. Mr. Fox must have a week's notice. Seems like an excellent chance for an addition to the summer program for Scout Troops along the Main Line and should prove a cooling diversion for the summer, stay-at-homes. It is possible to make an entire day of it and hikers are permitted to bring lunches.

Main Line Court of Honor and Board of Review for July will be held at the Merion Scout House in the rear of the Merion Tribute House on Hazelhurst avenue, 7:30 P. M., Tuesday. Among the troops represented: Merion No. 1—Kent Roberts, John Vogel, Dan McElwee, Bill Blake, Lee Krauss, Bob Miller; Merion No. 2—Thomas O. Perry; Wynnewood No. 1—Bill Haywood, Neil Moxon, George Woodrow; Narberth No. 2—Robert Ezekson, Jim Pruitt; 4 Year Scout—Howard Kairer; Valley Forge Hike Award—Fred E. Riegner.

Merion No. 1

We are sorry to learn of the illness of our Quartermaster, John Mraz, who has been confined to his home for the past week or so. Here's for a speedy recovery.

A series of overnight hikes is being planned for the members of the troop who are not going away for the summer. These will be held with a view to advanced training courses for junior leaders.

Merion No. 2

Last Wednesday we staged our Treasure Hunt which was organized by the secret order of the Red Dragon. The treasure, to our surprise, was a trip to see the fireworks display and water carnival in honor of the three hundredth anniversary of the landing of the Swedes in Philadelphia.

We extend our thanks to the Red Dragon for their grand treasure.

JACK COMISKEY,

TOM PERRY,

Troop Reporters.

Penn Valley No. 1

The troop meets every Monday night at the Montgomery Day School, which was the scene of the last Main Line Court of Honor and Board of Review. This summer part of the troop will participate in activities at Camp Delmont, and the troop will attend the day camps at Dove Lake.
